

Climate Emergency Match

Match each emergency situation with the correct picture.

Hurricane

Flood

Heatwave

drought

Wildfires

These emergencies happen when there is not enough rain for a long time.

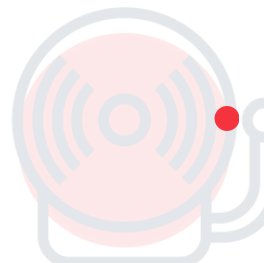

These emergencies happen when strong winds and heavy rain cause damage near the ocean.

These emergencies happen when flames move fast through dry areas like forests or grasslands.

These emergencies happen when it is hotter than normal for several days and nights in a row.

These emergencies happen when there is too much water on land that is normally dry.

Climate Emergency Match

Results :

Hurricane

Flood

Heatwave

drought

Wildfires

They happen because the land becomes too dry due to heat.

These emergencies happen when there is not enough rain for a long time.

They happen because warm ocean water makes storms stronger.

These emergencies happen when strong winds and heavy rain cause damage near the ocean.

They happen because dry conditions like drought help the fire grow.

These emergencies happen when flames move fast through dry areas like forests or grasslands.

They happen because very hot weather stays in one place.

These emergencies happen when it is hotter than normal for several days and nights in a row.

They happen because heavy rain or melting snow makes rivers overflow.

These emergencies happen when there is too much water on land that is normally dry.